THE WORLD

Published by the Press Publishing Com

MONDAY EVENING NOVEMBER 12.

SUBSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING EDITION

VOL. 20.....NO. 9.946

ed at the Post-Office at New York as second-cis.

Here's a "High-Water Mark."

The Actual Bona-Fide Number of "Worlds" Printed and Sold Wednesday Nov. 7, 1888, Was 580,205.

J. B. McGurrin, Supt. of Mail and Delivery Dept. W. H. NEWMAN.

Foreman Press-Room. ally appeared before me this 8th day o November, 1888, J. B. McGurrin, Superin-endent, Mail and Delivery Department, and W. H. NEWMAN. Foreman Press-Room of THE WORLD, teho, being meorn, do depose and say that the foregoing statement is true and correct. JOHN D. AUSTIN.

A Record Never Before Achieved by an American Newspaper.

THE COLLISION IN THE BAY.

It is not difficult to understand the true use of the steamship collision last Satur-Of course, there was a pretty heavy But it was not the fog that did it. Indeed, the thickness of the weather ought to have rendered the accident improbable if not impossible, rather than have been its oc

For this reason. When ten ocean steamers start down a crowded pay, some of them at the same hour, in a haze which compels the constant blowing of horns and shricking of whistles, it is only reasonable to suppose that if their captains and pilots have a proper regard for the lives and property intrusted to their care they will creep cautiously along, feeling their way as it were in the dark and taking good care that if they do come in contact with some other craft the consequences shall be

If this caution had been exercised by the Umbria she would now be some distance outside and well on her way to her destination instead of back at her dock, and the Theria would be uninjured.

In fact, the collision occurred through the rackless custom of starting our ocean steam. ens on a race against time from the they leave their docks. most reprehensible to run stegmers out to sea at a high rate of speed on such a day as last Saturday, if the captains have not sens exercise better judgment and greater caution, some law ought to be enacted to regulate their speed. It was miraculous that an accident did not occur, fatal in its results and much more deplorable than the one recorded.

ROODLE AT THE RALLOT, BOY.

It is calculated on a moderate estimate thatthe sum of 1.$1,250,000 was spent in the last n in expenses which are known and can be-traced. This does not include small money for "egg" men and "treats" saloons, where a candidate is expected to walk away without change for a ten-dollar bill if he happens to buy a dollar's worth of beer. Neither does it include the money which the shrewd working politicians hold in hand until Election Day and deal out in accordance with the DUDLEY method to secure "floaters."

The evil of this enormous expenditure cannot be exaggerated. It absolutely nullifies the will of the people in many instances, about by bribery and corruption. It is also an injustice to the man of moderate resources and the poor man, who are ostracized from political office because they have not the means of meeting the heavy assessments which such expenditures render necessary. The first consideration of the political bosses who practically make nominations is not how capable and trustworthy a candidate is, but how much will he pay for a nomination?

The money actually spent in an election does not, however, reach the limit of the evil. It is notorious that the bosses collect more than they pay out, and in many instances no one but their own rings knows what becomes of the unexpended balances,

A reform in the methods of our elections is certainly needed, and it is to be hoped that an honest, practical and constitutional bill may be passed by the Legislature which the Governor will be able to approve.

A HOBOKEN SLANDER.

The girls of Hoboken are in a state of indignant excitement such as has never before been witnessed in that strictly moral and straitlaced city. Some one perpetrated a joke on the young Hobokenesses last week and on a confiding editor by publishing a notice of a forthcoming game of football to be played by the local belies, and gave the names of the teams and the positions in the game to which each fair kicker was assigned.

None of the young women mentioned in the teams are " Bloomers," and their indignation was consequently intense. If any such sport had been contemplated, they say, it would certainly have been a private affair in some secluded spot safe from the prying eyes of outsiders, and to which ladies only would have been admitted as speciators. But the story is pronounced A says, sure ours for coughs and colds. Anamon's Boranto Barana. Russian, 20th st. and 6th are.

women burn and their toes tingle to think THE NEXT CABINET, BENJAMIN HARRISON. THAT ambitious of emulating the college boys in their roughest and most dist netively male

Now that the election is over, it is curious to see how suspicious the English and Canadians are of Mr. CLEVELAND and how anxious they feel for the close of his Administration and the return of the Republicans to power. This is scarcely reconcilable with the campaign cry that CLEVELAND and the Democratic party had sold out the interests of the United States to England and Canada.

OUR AUTOGRAPH COLLECTION.

Jalanfills

WORLDLINGS.

In a suit for divorce in St. Louis the plaintiff, pawned her wedding dress for a drink of liquor.

The Black Bills country is making a name for itself as a horse-growing country, and it is pre dicted that within ten years it will be as fan for its horses as the blue grass region. It already boasts many fine horses of the best breeds know in the world.

Miss Jennie Dunphy, of San Francisco, is sidered the most fearless horsewoman on the Pacific coast. She has been accustomed to ride from childhood, and is perfectly at home in the saddle, riding easily and gracefully. Her pet horse Jim of blooded Kentucky stock and is valued at $18,000. Gen. Harrison's father-in-law, the Rev. Dr.

William H. Scott, is a clerk in the Pension Office at Washington. He is a venerable gentleman of eighty years, but wonderfully well preserved. He is tall, but stoops a little, and his face has a good

A prominent Chicago lawyer is Miss Ellen J. Martin, who has been practising since 1876 and has uilt up an extensive office business. Her partner, Miss Fredericks Perry, is also a successful lawyer and gives her attention to the court-room work ecessary in the cases that come to them.

AFTER THE SPEAKERSHIP.

Fremont Cole and the Bald Eagle, of Wes chester, Will Do Battle for It.

Young Mr. Fremont Cole, the chieftain from the riens and highlands of Schuyler County, is awfully inxious to succeed himself as Speaker of th Assembly, and is busily engaged in looking after He was in New York the latter part of last week and conferred with the small Republican delega-tion, which will go to Albany from this city next January, and then also aim up the river toward the capital.

As last year, "Baid Eagle" Jimmy, of West-chester, is his strongest opponent for the Speaker's chair, and it is expected that he will make a much stronger fight now.

chair, and it is expected that he will make a much atronger fight now.

Last year it was a free fight and Chauncey Depew kept his hands off for a Presidential candidate was to be nominated in the Spring.

The convention was held, Depew was complimented with the vote of his State and may now interest himself in securing the Speakership for the New York Central's candidate.

Charile Saxton, of Wayne, the father of the Australian Ballot bill, is announced as a candidate, but he is altogether too close to ex-Congressman John H. Camp, counsel for the Standard Oil Company and other Trusta, to succeed. His candidacy may sectre him the Chairmanship of an important committee, which will suit Camp quite as much. He had the Judiciary Committee last year.

year.

"Little Breeches" Ainsworth, of Oswego, is also a candidate, but he, like Saxton, is only looking for a committee, and both are recruiting companies to join Cole's forces against Husted.

JESSE HOYT'S MILLIONS.

The Death of His Widow May Bring On Another Hig Contest.

The death of Mrs. Helen Maria Hoyt, widow of Millionaire Jesse Hoyt, which occurred on Friday it 54 West Forty-eighth street, may greatly comlicate the litigation over the old man's will, Mrs. Hoyt and her daughter, Mary Irene, each received $1,250,000 under the will, and the remainder of the $12,000,000 destate was given to the millionaire's sister Mary, his brothers Samuel, Airred and Reuben, and his niece, Mary Nesbut Hoyt.

Mary Irene contested the will on the ground that $1,250,000 did not allow her living expenses. Surrogate Rollins decided against her and the case is now before the Supreme Court.

If, as is said to be the case, the widow has left her money away from Mary Irene, that litigious and eccentric woman is almost certain to make another contest. She is now believed to be in

WHO'LL SUCCEED DAN?

Gossip Says That it Lays Between Tw Indianapolis Newspaper Men.

The office of Assistant President of the United States is never vacant. It is self-appointing and the millions who occupy it are now engaged in organizing Gen. Harrison's Cabinet for him.

A few have interested themselves in the selection of a trustworthy private secretary for the President-elect who will be a worthy successor to Col.

Dan Lamont.

The local favorite in Washington is ex-Auditor
Perry Heath, Washington correspondent of Gen.
Harrison's organ, the Indianapolis Journal, but his protensions pale before those of E. W. Halford, managing editor of the same paper, who covers the job of guarding administration secrets. Off the Island in the Regular Way. Justice Ford expressed surprise when a woman named Amelia Fredericks was arraigned before nim at Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday, inasmuch as he had sent the woman to the Work-house for six months only ten days previously. He suspected that her release was the result of the forging of another order, but investigation to-day shows that the woman was regularly admitted to ball by another police justice. Concert for Pamrano's Church ladies of the Calvary Episcopal Church, Pamrape, N. J., announce a concert at the Athletic Club-House there Thursday evening. Among those engaged are Mass Pannie Hirsch, Miss Alma Allen, Dr. Frank E. Miller, Charles Demarest and Al Camacho.

Wedded Twenty-Five Years. Mr. and Mrs. L. Michael celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage yesterday at their residence, 156 Henry street. The supper and reception were very enjoyable and a large number of relatives and friends were present,

The Tale of Hotel Registers. F. H. Lincoln, jr., of Boston; G. E. H. Flood, of Louisville, are a the Albemarie.

Prominent at the St. James are E. A. Milliken, of Pittsburg; H. R. Barnhurst, of Erie, Pa., and William Kiley, of Chicago.

Ernest Reckett, of London; J. H. Norton, of Chicago, and J. W. Wheelwright, of Boston, are among recent arrivals at the Brunswick. At the Grand Hotel are Judge F. A. Macomber, of Rochester; F. T. Anderson, of Memphis, Tenn. J. S. Crossley, of Buffalo, and F. E. Kitching, o

Registered at the Hoffman House are D. H. Mc-Millan, of Buffalo; J. Shrier, of Cleveland; G. W. Merchant, of Rochester, and J. W. Trimbel, of Chicago.

Conspicuous at the Fifth Avenue are W. H. Blodgett, of Boston; J. D. Simpson, of Winnhester, Ry.; Frank Hamila, of Buffalo, and Dr. J. J. Chisoim, of Batimore. Constant Coquelin, the celebrated French actor: C. S. Francis, of Troy: A. Freussee, of Grand Rapids, Mich., and D. M. Martindale, of Chicago, are at the Giller.

General Disposition to Assist President-Elect Harrison.

What a Lot of Patriots to Pick From !

Many Suggestions Offered and Reasons Therefor.

A J. G. B. Cabinet. To the Editor of The Econing World .
The Cabinet idea is splendid, and I predict that President Harrison's Cabinet will be formed as follows : Secretary of State, James G. Blaine.

Secretary of the Treasury, James G. Blaine.
Secretary of War, James G. Blaine.
Secretary of the Navy, James G. Blaine,
Secretary of the Interior, James G. Blaine,
Postmaster. General, James G. Blaine.
Attorney-General, James G. Blaine.
Respectfully yours,
New York, Nov. 9.

Another Version,

to the Editor of The Evening World : Secretary of State, J. G. Blaine; Treasury, C. M. Depew: War, J. B. Foraker: Navy, Goff, of Virginia: Interior. J C. New. of Indiana; Attorney-General, Wm. M. Evarts, of New York; Postmaster-General, J.T. Hirsch, of New York, the last of Dry-Goods Club fame.

The Wisest Living Man. to the Editor of The Evening Worl

In response to your call for proposals for members of the coming Cabinet, I would commend D. T. Jones. of Iowa, for the President's nearest adviser, or Secretary of State, as the wisest living man in National affairs.

A PRIOR CONTRIBUTOR.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 10.

A Sympathetic Cabinet.

Here goes: For Secretary of State, James G. Blame, the power behind the throne; Secretary of Treasury, Matt Quay, the fat fryer from Pennsylvania; Secretary of War, Warner Miller, that poor man from New. York who was sacrificed for the President; Secretary of the Navy, Robert T. Lincoln, because he was not nominated this time; for Attorney-General, Judge Gresham—poor fellow; he can't get a nomination.

B. B.

Another Word for James G.

To the Editor of the Evening World:

I think that James G. Blaine ought to be Secretary of State. My reasons are that it was his great Protection blast from Paris, in answer to President Cleveland's Free Trade message, and his not sulking in his tent, but pulling off his cost and making the greatest of all protective speeches in the canvass from Maine to Indiana. All hail to the greatest of all Americans!
GRONGE HARN, 49 Warren street.

The British Lion Would Tremble to the Editor of The Ecening World : Allow me to suggest the following for your Cabinet as being the most deserving : Secretary of State, James G. Blaine: Secre tary Treasurer, John J. O'Brien; Secretary tary Treasurer, John J. O'Brien; Secretary of War, Jeremiah O'Donovan Rossa; Secretary of the Navy, Patrick Ford; Secretary of the Interior, Barney O'Rourke; Postmaster General, John W. Devoy; Attorney General, Barney Biglin.

If this Cabinet is not enough to twist the tail from the root, I would like to see a better one.

28 Pell street, New York.

A Remarkable Cabinet.

I have just arrived from the South. The headlines ' Don't Be Mean " caught my eye, and I want to be one of the first to show you that I am reconstructed. So here goes my "all wool, part silk and a yard

Cabinet, "all wool, part silk and a yard wide:"
Secretary of State, James G. Blaine, of Maine; for this position because he has covered the States from Arkansas to Maine via Indiana; Secretary of the Treasury, Matt Quay, of Pennsylvania, because he has shown the ability to make a dollar go further than any man we know; Secretary of War. Col. Swords, of Iowa, I believe, for the reason that I have heard he could hold twenty-five reporters at bay; Secretary of the Navy. W. Dudley, of Indiana, because he is great on "floaters." Postmaster General, Whitelaw Reid, of New York, his ability to keep trace of letters is too well known to need extended notice. In fact, on my first trip over to-day when I run up against his place I thought it was the county post-office, and that Mr S. S. Cox would not come after his mail, and that Sackville West was the Sheriff advertising to sell somebody out. Secretary of the Interior Caulion of Illies. would not come after his mall, and that Sackville West was the Sheriff advertising to sell somebody out. Secretary of the Interior, Senator Cullom, of Illinois: Attorney General, Wm. M. Evarts, of New York, no! he's not going to run for President in 1892. Secretary of the Department of Agriculture, Rutherford B. Hayos, of Ohio, he had been on a farm and knows how to raise chickens and milk and make cider. Why of course. J. RIPLEY

[From the Chicago Tribune.]
In one of the crowded South Side cable cars the other day was a man who rose up promptly or entiated with this he induced several healthy, but rejuctant young men to give up their seats also. His chivalric politeness was observed by a tall, resolute looking man with iren-gray whiseers, who grasped his hand with a cordial, fraternal grasp and exclaimed:

"I don't know you, sir, but I would be willing to bet a horse you are a Southerner, sir, and a brother Kentuckian."

"No, my friend," replied the other, with a look of patient, but hopeless melancholy. "I am only a plain Illinoisan. I was bern in East St. Louis."

Tried to Accommodate Her. [From the Funkes Blade.]
Mrs. Bloobs—This is a pretty time for you to ome in. Here it is three o'clock in the morning Mr. Blobbs—Yash. Y' see you're so drefly 'posed (hic) to me comin' home late that I thought I'd wait 'n come home (hic) early. Tha's ail right,"

News Summary. Senstor Morgan will be re-elected from Alabama. A crazy Alabama postmaster goads his wife into The Swedish explorer, Westmark, believes that Two men are killed in a fight over a horse trade in Owensboro, Kr.

Twenty-five supposed victims of the Rochester fre are still migaing. It is reported that Pope Lee has expressed satis-faction at Harrison's election. Senor Canovas, the Spanish Prime Minister, is stoned by a mob in the streets of Maurid. French royalists banquet at Marseilles and say that they will continue to watch and wait.

A colored ex-judge in Arkansas is put in jail be-cause he refused to remain away from the county. A laborer at Verson Centre, N. Y., is burned to death in ais house, together with his wife and daughter. The Duke of Coburg and the King of Haxony have become friends again, after an estraugement of many years.

Three thousand Socialists commemorate the execution of the Unioago Haymarket murdarers as hiyde Park, London.

The people of Brandon, Wis., are looking for a fre-bug who has tried several times to burn up the lown, and has very nearly succeeded.

A SKETCH OF THE PRESIDENT-ELECT

CHAPTER IL

HIS CAREES AT THE INDIANA BAR AND FIRST POLITICAL OFFICE.

Ben Harrison was eighteen years old when he emerged with his sheepskin from Miami University. Like most college graduates, he felt that the world was his, but he apparently had not the slightest idea of how he was to set about the work. His father, John Scott Harrison, had set.

tled originally on a 500-acre farm. But he was an easy man. Generous to a fault, he had schieved a reputation as a "poor manager." If a neighbor needed financial assistance John Scott Harrison was just the man who would "go on his paper" as indorser. If further security was needed, a mortgage was put on the farm, and finally, to ave the estate, John Scott Harrison was ultimately stripped of everything.

Young Benjamin got a deal of legal experience through these affairs, and at gradua tion found himself stared in the face by the problem of how to make a living right away. so that when Storer & Gwynne, a reputable Cincinnati law firm, offered to receive him as a student in their office, he accepted. And thus the legal profession selected young Har-

Encouraged to do by a trustful, hopeful

Encouraged to do by a trustful, hopeful fiancée, and nerved to energy by constant, abiding poverty, he labored diligently and soon became wedded to his profession.

Before he had quite finished his law course, however, he visited Oxford and was married. This was Oct. 20, 1853, and he took his wife to his father's roof, below Cmcinnati, continuing his studies there and going frequently to Cincinnati for examination.

Incidentally Harrison became acquainted with the leading politicians of two States. His father's home was on the line between Indiana and Ohio, and he gravitated to the Hoosier commonwealth. He knew its history and traditions, and was attracted by it. In March, 1854, he decided to open his office in Indianapolis, at this time only a promising, thriving young Western town.

He was as poor as poverty save for a wealth briving young Western town. He was as poor as poverty, save for a wealth of pluck and energy and a model young wife of pluck and energy and a model young wife, at the time he completed his law studies, but opportune fortune came to the rescue.

An aunt had been left a widow by the death of James Finlay, a veteran of the war of 1812, and from her he received a lot in Cincinnati. A purchaser advanced $800 on the lot, the transaction being performed by a special guardian, as Benjamin was still a minor.

And that $800 was the fortune with which

And that $800 was the fortune with which Benjamin Harrison began his career in Indianapolis. His only acquaintance in the city was a clerk in the United States District Court, John H. Rea, and as he was unable to rent an office he gratefully accepted Mr. Rea's offer of desk room in his office in the State Bank building, opposite the famous Retse House. Bates House.

A "shingle" nailed at the side of the door notified the world at large that "Benjamin Harrison, Attorney-st-Law," might be found

Practice did not come rapidly, and young Harrison had ample time to master the indiana statutes. Finally, almost through bity for him, he was appointed crier to the Federal Court, and he earned his first money s crier at the rate of $2.50 a day during Cour

At this time the Indiana Bar directory bore the names of Oliver H. Smith, Lucien Bar-bour, Calvin Fletcher, Ovid Butler, Simon Yandes, William Quaries, Hiram Brown, John L. Ketchum, James Morrison, Hugh O'Neal and ex-Gov. David Wallace, all famous legal Jonathan W. Gordon was the Prosecuting

Attorney of the county in 1854, and he liked young Harrison. It was through him that Harrison made his debut in Court. A trial of a burglar was set down one after-noon and Gordon had an engagement which he did not like to mas. He asked Harrison to assist him, and finally left the ease in his hands. Gov. Wallace and Sims Colley ap-to assist him, and finally left the ease in his hands. Gov. Wallace and Sims Colley appeared for the prisoner.

Harrison made the closing speech. He had prepared copious notes, but in his fright he was unable to read them, and he was compelled to rely on his memory. To his astonishment it was perfect. His speech was a remarkable one. Gov. Wallace replied. He patronized the fledgling, cajoled the jury and talked of Harrison in a fatherly way. But the jury went with Harrison and he found himself suddenly famous.

From that hour his success at the bar was assured. Business came and he prospered. In August, 1854, Russell, the eldest child, was born to the Harrisons, and when Mrs. Harrison had regained her health the happy family moved into a snug house of one story and three apartments, and then Harrison was offered and he accepted a parinership with william Wallace, who had already made a reputation.

Harrison's legal career has been successful throughout, and interrupted only for two years, 1862-64, when he was serving his country in the army.

years, 1862-64, when country in the army.

Near-Sighted Friend (to business man, who showing him through the manufactory)-My dear fellow, what possessed you to hang that exquisite impressionist sketch in this nousy, humdrum, matter-of-fact place?

Among the Workers.

All the furnaces at Sharon, Pa., are expected to be in blast all winter. The wages of the men in one of them have been raised 15 cents per day. The National Trades District Assembly of Painters is announced to hold its annual Convention in ers is announced to not Baltimore next month.

The Clothing Trades' Section is due to meet to night. The Secretary desires that all the delegates be present in order to transact important business. business.

The United Brotherhood of Progressive Painters, No. 1, will give its annual ball on Wednesday evening at Nilsson Hall. The proceeds will go to the mortality fund.

The Iron Moniders' Union of North America has fixed April 1, 1859, as the time for a general movement to enforce the nine-hour rule. If their employers do not concede it a general strike of moniders all over the country will ensue.

The ladies of the New York Labor Club will gove ers all over the country will ensue.

The ladies of the New York Labor Club will give their ennust ball this evening at Clarendon Hall. It promises to be well attended, and great preparations for the occasion have been made. Miss Mary Aloran is the President; Miss Mary Aloran is the President; Miss Mary Cronin, Vice-President; Miss Mary Clullen, Recording secretary; Miss Earle Poley, Treasurer; Miss Emma Donnelly, Financial Becretary.

All the brassworkers have withdrawn from D. A. & and joined the new National District Assembly which was recently formed in this city of members of that trade only. There were dategates from all the leading cities in the United States and Montreal, Canada. Beoles Robinson, of Pittaburg, is the Master Workman, and Lewis Page, of this city, Secretary-Treasurer.

A Half Million for Ireland. o the Editor of The Evening World; If I had a million I would use one-half of t to try and make Ireland a free country.

J.J.C.

Another Letter-Carriers' Friend. If I had a million I would help the letterparriers who have been in service fifteen A Constant Reader.

A Washerwoman's Idea. tor of The Evening World If I had a million Ifwould stop washing for other people. MRS. SEITZ, a washwoman.

The Baseball Crank Still on Deck. To the Editor of The Evening World:
I would back the New York and Brooklyn Baseball Clubs to win the pennants next G. M., Brooklyn.

Still a Trifle Sore.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

If I had a million I'd spend it in seeing that the Democratic districts were well fortified against such Republican frauds as swindled us out of Kings. A. C. W.

A Painter in Red.

or of The Evening World: Were I a millionaire I would paint the town d. 585 Courtland avenue, near One Hundred and Forty-ninth street.

Help for the Trenton Schoolgirl Editor of The Evening World:

If I were the possessor of a $1,000,000 would back that American schoolgirl of Trenton in her scheme of wiping out polygamy in Utah. Joseph M. Wiltberger. Morristown, N. J.

To Teach Them English.

othe Editor of The Evening World:

If I were suddenly to possess $1,000,000 I would give one-half of my wealth to have the "L" conductors taught the English lan-guage, so that passengers might understand the names of the stations.

555 Lexington avenue. An Observer.

He Likes the Articles

When I get a million dollars I shall be very happy man. Should be glad to invest some of it to found such a bright and go-ahead sheet as THE EVENING WORLD. Keep up the million-dollar articles. They are in-teresting as well as instructive.

Why Should There Be Brooklyn Bachelors

To the Editor of The Evening World:

I would build a good hotel in Brooklyn where bachelors could get home comforts for a reasonable sum, and I would rent a good building and present it to the Government for a Post-Office there. BROOKLYN. 163 Joraleman street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Would Disseminate Information. I would build schools for the education of the people in the principles of Jeffersonian Democracy. I would furnish to every true Democrat a copy of the Statistics of Labor of the United States, showing that the working-men in protected districts and protected in-dustries receive the lowest wages.

Phil C. W. Kullman.

91 Madison street. For Photographing Democrats

If I had a million dollars I would spend half to get the photographs taken of all the betting Democrats in two positions-one before and the other after election. With the other half I would settle down in some "cold, cold ground" and wait until the G. O. P. gets left "in the soup," It only takes "four years more" until they got there.

M. K., 30 East Fourteenth street,

Prefers a Wife to $100,000,000. I would give $100,000 to the Voluntee Firemen's Benevolent Fund, $200,000 to erect a home for all exempt firemen who are poor and have no means to procure a home for themselves on account of disability. Then I would get married if I could find any woman to have me, I would buy a house and go to nousekeeping by all means. I would not live without a wife for a hundred million dollars if I could help it.

Anchibald Wilson.

305 West Twenty-first street, New Yo.

Mike Coburn Would Emulate Gee. Law. To the Edutor of The Evening Word:

If I was the possessor of $1,000,000 I would use it the same as George Law does his money. I would start in some good paying ousiness, and then I would go around and business, and then I would go around and see my friends occasionally and make them happy, the same as he does. I would also visit the hospitals and give to the sick and needy as he does. I would also try to better the condition of the poorer class, as he has often done to my knowiedge. And I would about do as I pleased with my $1,000,000 the same as he does with his What's the condition with Gaorgea (aw? He is all right.

Would Assist the English Home.

000 the same as he does with his What's th matter with George Law? He is all right. Mike Coburn, 142 West Thirtieth street.

Should I become the fortunate possessor of million dollars, I would devote a portion of t to paying the return passages of growling, dissatisfied Englishmen (such as frequently come under my notice) to their native country and the complaint of the complaint come under my notice) to their native country. These cranks are continually complaining about this "blawsted country," and boasting of what "they 'ave at 'ome." Such people are a nuisance and unfit to become citizens, and I dare say the United States would still continue to enjoy prosperity without their assistance. They would never be missed certainly.

C. L. JACKSON,
411 A street, East New York, L. L.

IF THEY WERE MILLIONAIRES.

The Plymouth Church Literary Union Diesses the Evening World's Question. The Young People's Social and Literary Society, of Plymouth Church Bethel, at its last meeting had an animated discussion upon the question, "How Would you spend a Million Dollars for the Public Good." It was participated in by the following speakers: Richard Brady, Geo, Bromley, Charles Vickers, J. Schoenemann, Frank DeWier, William Ephraim, Jaz. Watt, John Lang.

Among the measures proposed as desirable public benefits were technical schools, free gymnasiums, public play grounds, hospitals, homes for incurables, orphan asylums, etc. Mr. C. F. Wingate who was invited to sum up the debate, said that the best way in his up the debate, said that the best way in his opinion to do good with money was to eradicate the sources of evil in the community, instead of trying to cure the evils themselves, and as disease and death were the most potent foes of humanity, he would favor spending a million for sanitary reform.

NEWS OF TRACK AND RING.

The Coming Steele-Larkins Battle - Mc Auliffe to Have a Benefit.

Pugilist Jack McAuliffe will be tendered big benefit in this city within the next two weeks at which the Police Gazette light-weight championship belt will be formally presented to him just previous to the wind-up with Jimmy Carroll, of Holyoke, Jimmy Nelson, who has just closed theatrical boxing engagement with McAuliffe. is to teach the art of self-defense in New Haven and New London clubs. McAuliffe says that having two matches on at present for himself he cannot accept Jack Hopper's challenge, but will match Nelson against Hopper for any reasonable sum.

The moonlight road run of the Manhattan Athletic Club, which starts at the Eighty-sixth street and Eighth avenue grounds at 7 o'clock on Tuesday evening, promises to be very interesting. There will be a collation and musicale after the five-mile race.

J. S. Mitchell, the Gaelic giant, recently tossed the 56-pound weight for height 15 feet.
As the record is only 13 feet, it is particularly to be deplored that Mr. Mitchell cannot com-pete in the Union games at the Garden.

Tom Carroll, who fought a remarkably good Queensberry hard-glove fight in Frank White's old place, would like to meet any middle-weight for a $300 purse. He can be addressed at Whittaker's, 211 West Sixteenth

The Manhattan Athletic Club will play the Yale College Freshman team on its grounds on Saturday. Mr. C. G. Pell has written that a considerable number of students will accompany the team to witness the game. F. L. Mitchell, the champion weight thrower, will play centre-rush for the Manhattan Athletic Club. The M. A. C. have challenged the N. Y. A. C. for Thanksgiving Day, and the answer is impatiently waited for.

Al Smith, the prominent sporting man, was another lucky speculator on the election.

Jim Glynn, the Williamsburg heavy-weight, is now proprietor of the White House, at 152 Grand street.

A thoroughly competent and universally liked sport has been selected to referee the Steele-Larkins battle. The Boston man is here and the mill, which is with skin-tight gloves to a finish, comes off within forty-eight hours. A large number of clubmen will witness it.

Amateur athletes who saw the high jumping competition in the Garden on Saturday night, in which both Leo and Filemaker got a blue ribbon, say they would like to jump that way. The amateur running high jump record is only 5% inches short of the horse record anyway, and no one knows what height Page would get over if he had a few men to prevent his knocking the bar off.

EVERY EYE ON INDIANAPOLIS. Co-Morrow's Kuights of Labor Convention May Have Weighty Results.

The most important session ever held by the order of the Knights of Labor is that which begins o-morrow at Indianapolis, for it involves the per petuation of that great organization of workers, which has already been decimated by interna trifes and blokerings. Hival factions will be on hand to renew the battle for supremacy, and it is probable that those who are opposed to the Powderly regime will draw away all the dissatisfied elements and proceed to form a new order.

Prominent among the warring factions will be the opposing delegations from District Assembly 49, of this city, a body which has dwindled away from a membership of 100,000 to a small traction of that number, and has lost a once powerful influence, not only in the field of organized labor, but in political affairs.

Efforts will be made to defeat Mr. Powderly for re-election if he runs, as some believe he will.

The outcome of the proceedings of the General Assembly is anxiously awaited by organized labor everywhere.

Several delegates left this city for Indianapolis this morning. and to renew the battle for supremacy, and it i

Yen, Such Days Are Cold. [From the Milwaukee Review.] THE EVENING WORLD has offered a prize to the weather prophet who will prognosticate the coldest three days of the coming winter. Here is one of the prophecies:

The coldest three days this winter will be when the landlord comes for his rent and you have no got it; when he orders you out of your rooms; and the third, which will be the coldest of them all, when the marshal comes and sets your things on the sidewalk and you have no place to go to. I think these will be the coldest days felt this

Among the Saginaw Millionaires. [From the Saginar Courter.]
A large number of people are teiling the New York Evening World what they would do if they were millionaires. If they were thus fortunate the majority of them would doubtless do as other millionaires are doing. You know how it is yourself.

A Million for Gum. [From the Norristown Herald,]
In response to a query persons are writing to the New York EVENING WORLD telling how they would spend their money if they had a million dollars.

We are looking for a note from a Vassar College girl stating that if she had a million dollars she would spend $900,000 of it for chewing gum. Coming Events. Invitation reception of the Gorillas, Webste Invitation ball of the Monawk Social Club at Ata-lanta Casino, One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street and Eighth avenue, Wednesday evening.

That Tickling

Free lecture to young men on "The White Cross," by Rev. B. F. De Costa, at the rooms of the Young Men's Institute, 224 Bowery, to-morrow

In your throat arises from catarrh, and as catarrh is a constitutional disease the ordinary cough medicines all fail to hit the spot. What you need is a constitutional temedy like Hood's Sarasparilla, which, by building up the general health and expelling the scrothious taint which is the cause of catarrh and consumption, has restored to perfect health many persons on whom these diseases seem to have a firm hood. Many unsolicited testimonials prove beyond question that Hood's Sarasparille does positively cure catarrh.

Catarrhal Affection

"For several years I had been troubled with a catarrhal affection in my threat, and had tried several kinds of medicine, but could find nothing to help ms. My wife wanted me to try Hood's Bersaparilla, and I must say I was very much benefited by using it, and would recommend it very highly to any one having asthma or catarrh " ELLAS P. DEVRIES, firm of Devries & Peter-

Quick Consumption

"I am happy to say that my wife was oured of a very bad cough and what was called 'quick consumption,' by Hood's flareaparille. She was restored to perfect health, which she has emjoyed ever since." FRANK OTIS, Ber-

Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists. $1; mx for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apotheoaries, Lowell, Mass. 100 BOHES ONE DOLLAR

What Scott's Emulsion Has Done?

Over 26 Pounds Gain in Ten Weeks. Experience of a Prominent Citizen.

THE CALIFORNIA SOCIETY FOR THE SUFFRESSION OF VICE.

SAN PRANCISCO, July 7th, 1888.

I took a severe cold upon my chest and lungs and did not give it proper attention; it developed into bronchitis. and in the fall of the same year I was threatened with consumption. Physicians ordered me to a more congenial climate, and I came to San Francisco. Soon after my arrival I commenced taking Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites regularly three times a day. In ten weeks my avoirdupois went from 155 to 180 pounds and over; the cough meantime ceased. C. R. BENNETT.

SOLD BY ALL DRUCCISTS.

THE COMING BIG WALK.

Littlewood Appears to Be the Favorite Abroad-Some of the Contestants. George Mason and Archie Sinclair, both wettknown English pedestrians, are expected to arrive in New York on the Gallia, which is due to-day. They will compete in the Thanksgiving week world's championship go-as-you-please at Madison Square Garden. Sinciair is known to most New York sports, but Sinclair is known to most New York sports, but Mason has never been in America before. Chariey Rowell and Mitchell both declare, however, that he is the coming man, and at any rate, with blucky George Littewood, the "Sheffield blond," who went five days with a bruised and sprained knee and covered 611 miles at the last race in the Garden, Mason, Jack Hughes "the Lepper," Gus Guerrere the "Greaner," Dan Herty the "fast-and-forever," Charley Rowell, who has a record 602 miles, and George Hazael, who was the first man to cover 600 miles and won 19,000 at Madison Square Garden in 1882, in the race, Jimmis Albert's wonderful performance of last winter ought to be beaten.

bert's wonderful performance of last winter ought to be beaten.

Albert will himself attempt the feat. Littlewood is the favorite in London against Albert's record of 621 miles, and he will be looked after by Jake Kilrain and Charley Mitchell.

Dan Herty, who has proven to be an indomitable stayer in many races, will be trained for a leader by Jack Dempsey.

All the former champions, save Paddy Pitzgerald and Dan Leary, will be in the race.

Fitzgerald has been obliged to give up pedestrianism. He has had such an easy time at his Ravenswood 'poblic house' that he weighs 230 pounds, and training down to running form would be impossible.

Dan Leary runs a saloon in Chicago and is "gone to pleces" physically. George Hazael sailed from Liverpool on Satur-

THE U. L. P. WAKED.

Mock Ceremony Over Its Remains by Central Labor Union Delegates.

A ceremonious mock wake was held after the Hall last night. The mourners were delegates who had opposed the United Labor Party and James J.

had opposed the United Labor Party and James J.
Coogan for Mayor and supported Gov. Hill and Mayor-leet Grant.
Proprietor Scharman gave the grief-atricken party the use of one of his lodge-rooms and sent up a keg of non-pool beer. The undertaker, one John Gillespie Jones, a painter by trade, furnished a rather diminutive casket labeled 'Reina Victoria" on the inside of the lid, and 'United Labor Party; Born November, 1886; Died November,
1888, of an overdose of McMacaenism."

John Morrison acted as master of caremonies, the Rev. J. McKim, once a careputier, conducted the religious part of the programme, and Edward Finkelstone, Edward Conkhnz, Philip Kelly,
George McKay, Bernhard Davies and John MeFaul acted as pall-bearers and chief mourners.

JERE DUNN'S MARRIAGE. The Well-Known Turiman and His Bride

Dunn, the well-known turfman, who shot and killed Prize-Fighter Jim Elilott in a Chicago and killed Prize-Fighter Jim Killott in a Chicage saloon about five years ago, has surprised his friends by settling down to the peaceful joys of married life.

The marriage took place quietly on Saturday, at the Church of the Holy Innocents, Thirty-seventh street and Broadway. The bride was Miss Louise F. Nagle, of Cambridge, Mass., who is pretty, young and petite. The happy couple went to the hossmore siter the ceremony, and started to-day on their honeymoon tour.

The Archbishop Honored. Archbishop Corrigan will this evening be te dered a reception at the rooms of the Catholic Club, 20 West Twenty-seventh street. A large number of the clergy will be present, President W. Hildreth Field, of the Club, will present a jubilee address to the Archbishop.

The Rev. Dr. Alex. Kohut will lecture before the Young Men's Association of the Congregation Ahawath Chesed, Fifty-fifth street and Lexington avenue, on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Oldgold-I shall never speak to her again as long as I live. I met her to-day and she said about that.

Mrs. Oldgold—But the unladylike thing put the accent on the you.

A Rush Father.

(From the Lincoln Journal.)
Of course somebody, in the excitement of the moment, had to go and do something rash. A poor little defenseless baby that never did nam to any one, having had the lil-luck to be born Mon-day night, has been named William Henry Harri-son Tippecance Bratton by its enthusiastic parents. It will probably be called "Bub when it grows

(From the Chicago News.)
"What do you think of your new reporter?" "I think he'll be another Horace Greeley." "Why?"
"There's only one compositor in the office who can read his writing."

Answers to Correspondents.

Dents Donegan. —Potter's Field is unconst D. R. M.—The railroad you mention is not in ex-

J. K.—The season of German opera begins at the Metropolitan Opera-House Nov. 28.

Sugan B.—Cut the hair short and wash with a solution of borax and water. Use a fine comb constantly. p. G. Schmidt.—A candidate in an election re-ceives a plurality of votes when he receives most than any other candidate, and he receives a ma-jority of votes when he receives more than all the others.

A. K. F.—The law forbids the entry into this country of persons who come under contract of agreement to perform any kind of service for hire. Artists, actors and lacturers are exempt. Having been allowed to land, you cannot be sent back to England, but your amployer is liable to fine if it is proved that you came here under contract.